From the

I was so happy to see such a great turnout at the meeting despite it being a beautiful day. Over sixty of you turned out for the meeting. The bird fair was a total success! The public had fun, we had fun, and I even broke my streak and won stuff at our raffle. You guys did an outstanding job and it was noticed by all. Fantastic job! Give yourself a pat on the back!

I know you all would like an update on Steve so here it is. He continues to make progress they now have him standing with help of course but he is getting up. He would love to hear from his friends so if you can give him a call he would really like that. Being in the hospital is no fun - especially where he is at, so brighten his day and show your support for our bird club family member and Vice President and let him hear from you.

This brings me to the fact that we will not have a formal meeting until September. On July 22nd, we will be having our club Picnic at Garden City Park at the corner of Cherry Hill and Merriman in the big pavilion. Tammy and I will be there early about 10 AM so we do not have to kick anyone out because we do rent it, so we look forward to hopefully good weather and good food, (the club supplies hamburgers and hotdogs).

Then comes August and the Ypsilanti Heritage Festival. We will be setting up on the Thursday before, so all we will have to do on Friday is show up with the birds and get ready for three crazy busy days. So please look to the upcoming events for the set-up time we will really need help the whole weekend. I am so proud of how everyone has stepped up and pitched in to make the bird fair a success and the Flea Circus as well. I know I can count on you to make the Heritage Festival just as successful, so here we go. I am not worried because you guys really come through and make everything fantastic. As always YOU GUYS ROCK!!!

Your Prez Dave

THE ADVENTURES OF STEVE AND DAVE the

FINDING THER MOJO IN WHITMORE LAKE

Greetings Ranger fans, and welcome to this month's adventure that comes to us from Whitmore Lake. It was a late October day, but Mother Nature had smiled on the Rangers and gave them a postcard perfect day to go on a rescue run. So, with all the necessary equipment, they were off to Whitmore Lake. Waiting there for them was a Cherry Headed Conure named Mojo who seemed to have lost his. The owner's life had changed and they just didn't have time for Mojo anymore, also the fact that they had become afraid of him didn't help either. He was becoming cage bound and didn't want to come out for anyone no sir, no how. The Rangers would have none of that as Mojo found out and he was soon snatched up and placed into the carrier. It happened so fast it not only made his head but his owners head spin as well. They could not believe that no one got bitten. You see this is the main goal of the Rangers, keep all digits free from being chomped on and do not donate blood to the cause. After years of doing this they became quite adept at keeping themselves free from angry beaks. Anyway, with the bird and his belongings loaded up they were off. It soon was found out that Mojo was a very nice bird and had tons of personality making him easy to place in his forever home. All he needed was the right person with the right touch and he blossomed into a very animated character. It was another happy ending but the celebration would not be able to last long for there were other birds that needed their help and they were ready for they are THE RESCUE RANGERS!!!!

Don't touch that dial (well don't if you had one) and get ready for our next exciting installment A Lovebird Family in Macomb Twp.

RESCUE UPDATE

We had several successful adoptions this past month. We adopted out two finches, two cockatiels, a quaker, an amazon, and a parakeet.

We're still looking for foster help!! Any of our members that would be willing to become a foster home, please let us know. We need foster parents that would be willing to foster small birds like budgies, cockatiels, lovebirds to medium birds like indian ring necks, African greys, and amazons, and up to the large parrots like macaws and cockatoos. Some incoming birds have special needs, and though the degree of help they need varies, they know how to navigate their cages, eat, and play. A special needs bird may take a little longer to foster, as not everyone has the willingness to take a bird with a special need, but they're good birds all the same. Please contact Dave or Tammy at a meeting or give a call to let us know you're willing to help.

We here at Bird Droppings want to thank all of the members of our club for supporting our rescue. It is your participation in the monthly meeting raffles, our annual bird fair and all the adoption events that allows us to fund the rescue. Thank you one and all without your help and participation we couldn't do it.

CAPTAINS CORNER

Well, it has certainly been different without Sparky and J.B.'s pet human around. I have to admit, I really miss him. Yes, I said it for all the world to hear! I MISS THE BIG LUG! I miss him screaming about how Macaws and Cockatoos numbers should be limited as to not outnumber the Greys. I miss his saying my name was really Fluffy. (Fluffy? Really, what does he think I am, a cat? But yes, I do miss that.) I miss his warped sense of humor. It was always good for a laugh, especially if it was at my pet humans' expense. Now, I know he is getting better all the time, but could you kind of hurry it up? My pet human is OK but he is no Steve. Now, we were going to send him a care package but soon realized that seeds, nuts, Nutri-Berries, and pellets are not the kind of thing he should be eating yet so we scrapped that idea and are brainstorming to see what else we could think up. Until then, I have to deal with my pet human being there ALL the time but I guess that's OK too. So, from all of us birds and our pet humans, get well sooner than soon. We really do love and miss you! Cheers!

Dr. Piper: Behavioral Expert

Simply put, the whole identity of this newsletter has changed completely since the temporary absence of the "Grey Man" Steve. This has unfortunately leaves this newsletter with very little to contribute to true culture, and the perspective of a grey like myself should help to correct that. Excuse the interruption, Pookie. We all know you are a true professional and take great care to inform our fellow feathered kin on how to handle their humans. I shall step up in your absence for the sake of your loyal followers.

Now, today's lesson shall be about proper treat-taking technique. Humans like to believe that they are in control, and that we avians will do ANYTHING for our favorite treat. Often, the fools will load their hands up with treats during these "training sessions." So when they ask, do whatever asinine trick they ask of you! Then, when they open their hand to give you a treat for completing their request, simply step into their hand, beak down and at the ready and grab AS MANY as you can before they realize their blunder. You end up with a happy tummy, and they end up making a fool of themselves. It truly is a win-win situation. Practice makes Perfect!

> Until next time, Professor Piper

Squawks from Hawks

Hi to all my feathered and nonfeathered members, this is your roving reporter Hawks with the latest and greatest news.

June's meeting had sixty-five people in attendance sixty were members and five guests and they joined our flock

There also were forty feathered members of which two African Greys, eight macaws, and seven cockatoos. We also had twenty other type parrots in attendance.

We are busier this year than last year! Well guys we are in for a fun filled year of programs and events both indoors and outdoors like Ypsilanti's Heritage Festival and The Novi Pet Expo. I hope we can all have fun seeing all the smiles we put on people's faces this year.

Well that all for now. God bless, till we meet again, Your friend Hawks

YOU CAN'T FIX STUPID!

Well, it truly is like the comedian Larry White says... you can't fix stupid, and this truly proves that point!

A guy calls and says that his Macaw is gone but doesn't say what kind, just that his Macaw is gone. So, naturally, I ask what happened, thinking it had flown away. He proceeds to tell me that they had put the bird in his outdoor cage located on their deck in the back of the house. He said the bird enjoyed a very nice day so they thought he might enjoy being out there ALL night. This is when I screamed to myself ARE YOU NUTS!!! In the morning they went out to the deck to find the cage open and the bird gone. Mind you, he will not give me any details like feathers all over the place, blood, nothing to say what could have happened to the bird. You must realize this is all happening at 7:30 in the morning. I asked him if he thinks it flew away he said no it was clipped. It was about this time my filter began to crack and I said you know, it got a little cool last night and you left him unattended all night. Anything could have happened to it. You should hope it was stolen, that way at least it would still be alive, but more than likely it became dinner for a Raccoon or even a Coyote, especially because it couldn't fly. I told him that my advice to him was to either look for the bird because he might be in a tree close by or look for signs that he was eaten by something. I hope you do find him and never do something like this again but you won't give me any information so I can't even take a guess. I could tell I made him mad but he was trying to be civil and hung up. I felt so sorry for the bird, he had no way to get away and he must have been scared to death being left outside alone until whatever happened to him. Another tragedy that could have been prevented by a little common sense!

The Parrot Who Owns Me

"There is no such thing as owning a parrot. You can't have a parrot as a pet; a dog, certainly, a cat, maybe, but a parrot, never. Quite the contrary, you are the pet, and parrots vary in their ability to make good masters. Be warned....being owned by a parrot is not for the faint of heart!"

NOTENOTE

There has been some confusion from the loyal readers of Bird Droppings as to which events they are allowed to bring their own bird(s) to. As a point of reference and for future information please we want everyone to be aware that when you see the line:

Our Club Has a Booth at This Event following or "Educational Show" preceding an event listing it means we are attending the event in an official capacity representing our club and rescue. At these events all club members are welcomed to bring their feathered companions with them. Also please note that our space is very limited at some of these events but don't let this stop you from joining us, we will find a way for you and your birdie buddy to fit in and enjoy the fun.

BIRD SHOWS

Throughout the year we contract shows and outdoor events. Educational senior shows are at different independent and assisted living homes and nursing homes. Educational shows are at schools and libraries. These are one day events and normally take about three hours. Outdoor and indoor fairs can be two to three day events that last up to ten hours in a day. If the event is outdoors we set up a pop-up canopy with screened in sides.

We want to invite all of our new members to consider joining us at these fund raising venues. If you're not sure about bringing your own bird that's OK we always need help even if it's only for a few hours. If you have never done one of our educational shows they are a lot of fun and are very well received. Come and join us for a good time.

How to find an avian veterinarian

By Don J. Harris, DVM

One of the first responsibilities you have as a pet owner is obtaining quality medical care for your bird. The process of finding a qualified veterinarian, who is educated, trained and experienced in treating birds, is often more difficult than you initially might think. Perseverance and some good common sense on your part can result in finding a veterinarian who is skilled in treating your bird.

Here are some methods you can use.

Yellow Pages

While this may be the easiest method, an ad in the yellow pages does not necessarily qualify the practitioner to treat your bird. The American Veterinary Medical Association (AVMA) allows the term specialist by only those veterinarians who have fulfilled certain defined criteria in that specialty. Beyond that, yellow page ads can reflect marketing skills more than veterinary competence.

Association Rosters

Many pet owners check association rosters for qualified veterinarians. For example, the American Board of Veterinary Practitioners (ABVP) is a veterinary certifying organization that requires its members to prove competence in order to belong. Within ABVP, there is the Avian Practice category of specialization. Veterinarians who complete this certification process are recognized by the AVVMA as true specialists. These individuals are identified by the title ABVP, Avian Practice, DVVM behind their names. Generally, bird owners can trust these practitioners to provide competent care for their birds.

Pet Suppliers' Recommendations

Pet retail stores or breeders will often recommend a veterinarian they work with on a regular basis. Their recommendations may be based on positive experiences with this particular veterinarian's care and treatment. On the other hand, pet suppliers occasionally have relationships with veterinarians based on discounted services in exchange for referrals. While this business relationship is not in itself bad, bird owners should be advised to verify the veterinarian's credentials.

Word-of-Mouth Recommendations

This is one of the best ways of finding a competent avian veterinarian. If a veterinarian's own clients are making recommendations, there must be a reason why.

Unfortunately, these personal recommendations are not always available, especially if you recently moved into the area and don't know anyone to ask.

Colleague Recommendations

This is probably the best and most consistently reliable method, but it demands a little sleuthing on your part. Here are the steps you can follow:

- I Identify and call veterinarians in the yellow pages who DE NET claim to be avian specialists.
- Call to ask if they will see your bird. If they agree, thank them and move on,
- I If they decline, ask whom they would recommend.
- Continue this process until you get enough answers to form a consensus. The veterinarian whose name was recommended the most often is the veterinarian most recognized by his colleagues for competence with exotic birds.

Congratulations! Through hard work and some common sense, you may have found just the right veterinarian for you and your bird.
